

Here are some links that may be useful throughout your middle and high school education.

College preparation

<https://bigfuture.collegeboard.org/>

This website is part of the College Board website where you can also search for colleges based on your preferences (size, location, majors, sports, etc), look at career options, learn how to finance college, and more.

<http://www.actstudent.org/career/>

This website is part of the ACT website where you can learn about careers, plan your college preparation, and learn more about financial aid.

Signing up for standardized tests

www.collegeboard.org

Sign up for the SAT and SAT Subject Tests through College Board.

www.actstudent.org

Sign up for the ACT by making an account on this website.

Free practice questions

<http://sat.collegeboard.org/practice/>

Sign up for SAT practice questions for free and take a free full length practice test.

<http://www.actstudent.org/sampletest/>

Complete ACT practice test questions in English, math, reading, science and writing.

Financial aid and scholarships

<http://studentaid.ed.gov/>

This government website includes information on what types of aid there are, who qualifies, and how to get aid.

<http://www.fafsa.ed.gov/>

Sign up for federal grants, loans, and work study.

<http://www.finaid.org/>

Search for scholarships, learn about the different types of loans, and search frequently asked questions.